Growing up in Los Angeles ain't easy

In Hollywood, everybody wants to be rich, famous and beautiful. Nobody wants to be old, unknown and poor. For Hollywood kids, life can be difficult, because they grow up in such an unreal atmosphere. Their parents are ambitious, and the children are part of the parents' ambitions.

Parents pay for extravagant parties, expensive cars, and designer clothes. When every dream can come true, kids learn the value of nothing because they have everything. A 13-year-old boy, Trent Maguire, has a driver, credit cards, and unlimited cash to do what he wants when he wants. "One day, I'll earn more than my Dad," he boasts.

Parents buy care and attention for their children because they have no time to give it themselves. Amanda's mother employs a personal trainer, a nutritionist, a bodyguard, chauffeur, a singing coach, and a counsellor to look after her 15-year-old daughter's needs.

Often there is no parent at home most days, so children decide whether to make their own meals or go out to restaurants, when to watch television or do homework. They organize their own social lives. They play no childhood games. They become adults before they're ready.

Hollywood has always been the city of dreams. The kids in L.A. live unreal lives where money, beauty, and pleasure are the gods. Will children around the world soon start to think the same? Or do they already?

"Looks awfully important in Hollywood. If you're good-looking, you'll go far. I want to be a beautiful. You grow up really fast in L.A. Everyone is in a rush to be an adult. To be going club. It's not cool to be a kid." Migami, aged 16

"I live in a hotel and when I come home from school, there are always 80 people who say "Good day" to me. It's tough to stay quiet. In the bathroom there are mirrors everywhere. I love looking at myself. I can speed but kids doing my hair and posing. I'm going to be a model." Emily, aged 18

"I've wanted to get my nose done since I was 12. My friends started having plastic surgery and liposuction during my freshman year of high school. My nose cost $10,000. But it was worth it. It changed my life. I'm gonna get into the movies." Lindsay, aged 18

"Everyone thinks Hollywood is so glamorous, but I have news for you. It is really dangerous: growing up in L.A. People have guns. Sometimes I think I'm going crazy. I'm going to get out of here just as soon as I can." Zavier, aged 13

The English in Action video clips help students to develop their listening and pronunciation skills, understand the importance of gestures and body language, and discuss culture and idioms. With over 120 self-study activities, Speak Now Online Practice offers students extra opportunities to practice outside class. Educator Alan Tortolani was looking for software to use in the computer lab. The emphasis here is squarely on education and activities that improve the student's intellectual capabilities. This is a key difference between ABCya and other games sites for kids. Some teachers and educators have noted that ABCya does not include much in the way of progress tracking for the student. In order to scale the heights of academic accomplishment, they must first begin with the fundamentals. Free Games Contribute to Educational GoalsABCya.com was started out of an educator's frustration with getting software for his students to use. With Speak Now Online Practice students can improve their speaking, pronunciation, listening and grammar skills - anytime, anywhere. This ties in well into the website's identity as a place focused on young kids at the very beginning of the academic process. In this case, Tortolani decided to take matters into his own hands to try and solve a problem that was standing in the way of his students getting a great education. Cookies are used to provide, analyse and improve our services; provide chat tools; and show you relevant content on advertising. Tortolani wanted free games for kids that would make learning easy and fun. For instance, you can select games for the first grade, second grade, and so on. These include: Create A Car - In this game, students use their creativity to design and make a car. In other words, it is up to you to supplement what the website has in order to track students' progress and provide them with the right motivation to go on to the next level. How Parents Can Use ABCya to Educate Their KidsIf you are a parent at home, you can also integrate ABCya into your child's playtime in order to get them interested in academics from a fun point of view.
